Dear Kitec class members,

In an effort to provide Kitec class members with a convenient source of information, Class Counsel recently updated the Kitec class action website: www.plumbingdefect.com. The information provided on the website includes:

- Class Counsel's contact information
- A registration form for homeowners interested in finding out more information about the Kitec class action (there is no need to register if you are already on the Kitec class member email list)
- Background information regarding the Kitec class action
- Several pertinent documents filed by Class Counsel and rulings from Judge Williams
- Photographs and descriptions of the brass Kitec fittings
- A "Frequently Asked Questions" section

Class Counsel will continue to update www.plumbingdefect.com in order to keep class members informed about developments and issues in this case. Please feel free to contact us with any additional questions.

Very truly yours,

J. Randall Jones, Esq.
